Urmila Parthasarathy, DO

"I believe in empowering patients to take charge of their own health care. Patients should be educated on their disease processes and understand how and why certain treatment plans are recommended. I believe that a combination of traditional medicine and healthy lifestyle changes are the base of treatment for almost any medical issue."

Enas Pruitt, MD

"I believe in simple, patient-centered care. I serve as a healthcare advocate for patients and I listen closely to what they need and the problems they present to me. Utilizing my skills and relying on evidence-based medicine, I strive to work with each patient to provide the appropriate treatment and care for the whole individual. In Family Medicine, I can see the entire family unit and work with them to achieve healthy lifestyle choices that help enable them to enjoy a better quality of life."
